In his possession was found a complete stock of everything required in the business, including yen shee, lamps, opium scales and an entire layout. In the absence of a United States commissioner the prisoner was arraigned before Judge Averill, who held him to the United States grand jury in bonds of $500. Mr. Truxton left this morning, but before departing took occasion to pay a high compliment to the chief of police, without whose aid, he said, he could not have accomplished what he did.

ATTRACTIVE SCHOOL EXHIBITS
SHOWN BY THE GRADE PUPILS

A visit to the Tonopah school exhibit today proved well worth while.

Much Red Cross work was on display, and in spite of the fact that a good deal of this work was accomplished during the school year there were many evidences that the other lines of work had not been neglected. In the grades the drawing and construction work was especially good and of unusual interest. There has been no drawing supervision this year, each teacher handling the work of her own grade, and in passing from room to room it was plain evidence that this work had been done in a thoroughly capable and artistic manner.

The kindergarten presented its usual attractive and cheerful appearance. During the season an instructive lesson in animal study and cut-out work was presented and the happy countenances and busy fingers of the little tots showed joy and interest in their work.

In the primary grades there were many examples of the work that can be accomplished under careful supervision and guidance. In the first grade rooms of Miss Egan, Miss Cross and Miss Washburn, spring-time decorations predominated. Flowers in parquetry and crayon, gayly colored butterflies and birds all being suggestions of this season.

In the second grades a great deal of handwork has been accomplished. In Miss Bowler's room some especially fine examples of hammock weaving were exhibited. Another charming note was introduced in the delicately tinted Japanese lanterns which hung in festoons from the ceiling.

The weaving has been carried on in the other rooms, also bright-colored tam o' shanters being shown in Miss Edna Sullivan's room. Sun-bonnet babies and daisy chains formed

MEMORIAL DAY
IS SOLEMNIZED

The time honored festival was observed in local circles yesterday with a solemnity that contrasted strangely with the celebrations of former years. The only parade was that of the boy and girl scouts who marched to the Airdome and, after listening to inspiring music and addresses continued to the cemeteries where they engaged in decorating the graves. The observance was general so far as business was concerned, as the merchants closed their stores and a Sabbath day quietness pervaded the camp.

AT THE BUTLER
The true story of Russia—the events leading up to the revolution and the death of "Rasputin," the "black monk," which will be the attraction at the Butler this evening.

The facts connected with the fall of the Romanoffs are now told for the first time, and are told in a way that will enthral every movie fan, every student of history and every person who is interested in keeping up with the biggest events of the times.

This magnificent attraction is headed by a remarkable cast featuring Montagu Love, June Elvidge, Arthur Ashley, Julia Dean, Irving Cummings and Hubert Wilke. The construction of a single street used in a few of the scenes cost $10,000.

"Rasputin, the black monk," tells the inside history of the biggest event of the world's biggest war. It is in seven reels—it moves swiftly—there are no drags—it is a wonderful photoplay.

In addition to the feature, the latest Hearst-Pathe News will be shown, with all the latest war news and notable events.

Tomorrow, the ever-popular screen star, and one of America's greatest dancers, Viola Dana, in "The Weaver of Dreams."

WHAT'S WHAT

(By L. L. Mudgett.)
Vol. 1, Tonopah, May 31, 1918, No. 59

The council of defense has another important duty to perform and if you'll listen about a minute I'll tell you about it.

There is a shortage of productive labor in the state and we are asked to maintain a free information and employment bureau which we are going to do. Letters have been written to all the farmers and cattle men throughout the county with the request that they make their requirements known and we are ready to register the names of all volunteers who wish to aid in harvesting this year's crop in Nevada and thus perform an essential war service.

The wages will be the same as those now being paid by the farmers, but not to exceed $3 a day and board.

Equally as important is the enrollment of our boys in the U. S. Boys' Working reserve, which is being handled by R. Fred Brown and Professor Dilworth. The council has also been asked to aid in handling this matter and we will be glad to do so. Mr. Brewster Adams, federal state director of the reserve, has sent us a number of cards and buttons which will be furnished the boys on application.

It is preferred that the boys find employment near their homes, but employment will be found if there is none locally.

So valuable is the boy's labor at this time, it has been decided that each boy will receive a handsome bronze emblem of government service if he puts in six weeks of productive and useful labor.
